chewy oatmeal raisin

Chewy with crispy edges, these cookies are the perfect combination of buttery cookie dough and rich semi-sweet chocolate.

Studded with mini peanut butter cups and fresh peanuts, these cookies are peanut butter, only better.

The snappy ginger flavor of these cookies provides the perfect complement to a cozy cup of tea.

Creme filled chocolate cookies!

A hint of fresh ground nutmeg and a delicate butter flavor transforms these hearty cookies from "health food" to a delectable chewy treat.

Sweet chunks of Heath® bars nestle in the rich chocolate dough of these decadent cookies.

As you can see, we love oatmeal cookies. This is mom's crispy, crunchy version loaded with oats, corn flakes, crispy rice cereal, coconut and chocolate chips.

This brown sugar-scented, "taste of the islands" cookie is chock full of creamy white chocolate and crunchy macadamia nuts.

Old fashioned oats, Saigon cinnamon, semi-sweet chocolate and shredded coconut, no one can corral this cookie!

Browned butter draws out the rich brown sugar flavor of these chewy cookies. Mmmm, sweet, sweet butter.

peanut butter bars

These dense and chewy bars sandwich rich Hershey's milk chocolate and gooey melted mini marshmallows between two layers of buttery graham cracker crust. Campfire goodness without all the pesky camping.

Deep, rich, satisfying chocolate, chocolate and more chocolate makes these fudgy brownies a standout.

A rich crumbly shortbread crust offsets the tart lemon filling in these delicate rich bars.

Blondie? Caramel brownie? You won't care what it's called when you are inhaling one of these tasty little treats.

What could possibly be better than a peanut butter bar? One with peanut butter chips and peanut butter swirls. Peanut butter overload. You're welcome.
